451 Brides End Sea Nightmare

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Storm-tossed and tired, but radiant with anticipation, the first group of "British brides"—English women who married American soldiers during the war—reached New York today on the Army transport Argentina after a nine-day nightmare voyage across the North Atlantic.

A total of 451 women and 175 children were aboard the ship, which docked shortly before 7 a. m.

The wives ranged in age from Mrs. Ben F. Butler, 16, to Mrs. Harold N. Cooper, 44.

Thirty of the women are expectant mothers.

Three literally risked their lives to make the voyage. They were in advanced stages of pregnancy, and when the Argentina encountered the first of several record-breaking storms, they were confined to the ship's hospital under constant observation by Army doctors and nurses.

The brides came from England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Malta. They were destined for homes in 44 states.

New York led the list with 84 women and children. Pennsylvania will receive 48, California and Illinois 40 each, Michigan 34, New Jersey 31, Massachusetts 30, and Ohio and Indiana 27 each.

Army tugs berthed the Argentina because of the tugboat strike.

Impatient husbands and fathers shouted as the smiling wives crowded rails and portholes.

First contingent did not leave the ship until noon. Then they were taken to the midtown Red Cross chapter house for reunions.

Processing of all brides will be completed by 8 p. m.

A special train will leave Pennsylvania Station this evening for Ohio, Chicago and Far West points.

It was the first "brides' ship" in more than 200 years to bring British girls to American husbands. Not since the days when sailing ships brought wives to the American colonists on the shores of New England has there been such a voyage.

It was a strange, pathetic and even a terrible journey.

As the Argentina slipped past the docks in Southampton, the women, lined on the decks, began singing "There'll Always Be An England." Tears streamed down their cheeks.

At almost the same instant, an

British Brides of Bay State Vets Want Homes, Families

By TOM BERUBE

Boston American Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Feb. 4—Homes and families are the two things most desired by English brides of Massachusetts ex-servicemen arriving here today aboard the Army transport Argentina.

These attractive British girls have no desire to become "working wives." They want only to be accepted into the American communities to which they are going as "good wives and good mothers."

Mrs. Peggy Swanton, arriving with her chubby 5-month-old daughter, Barbara Ann, said her housing problem has been all taken care of by her husband, William R. Swanton of Wilson st., Billerica, former Navy man.

Bill has rented an apartment in the house next door to his mother's home.

"I am most anxious to meet Bill's mother," Peggy said. "She has been wonderful to me. She bought us a refrigerator for a wedding present and when Barbara Ann was born she gave us a present."

GI's Baby Has Plans Will Kill Tigers, Guard Cow in Home

By RELMAN MORIN

(Editor's note—This is an interview with 4-year-old Claire Fiedler, who arrived today on the "brides' ship" Argentina from England with her mother and sister. They will join her father of the U. S. Navy in Chicago.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—We are going to America, and when we get there, we are going to Chicago, America.

Q—What are you going to do in Chicago, Claire?

A—Kill rabbits.

Q—You are? Why? Don't you like rabbits? A—I don't know. I never saw one, except in a book.

Q—What else are you going to do there? A—Kill tigers.

Q—Tigers? There aren't any tigers in Chicago. A—There are so. My daddy said there are. And they eat up all the cows, so you have to kill them. If you don't, they come right into your house and eat the cows.

Q—Did you have a cow in your house in England? A—No, but my daddy said we could have one in Chicago. There's a cow on this boat. Did you know that?

Q—No. Are you sure? A—Yes. That's why Trudy and I have milk every day. We're going to have milk every day in Chicago, too. And we won't have to have any tickets. And then I am going to kill the cow.

Q—But if you kill the cow, you and Trudy won't have any milk? A—We can get another. My daddy said that every day about a fifty hundred cows come to Chicago, and everybody can have one.

Q—That's right. And where do you get the cows? A—At the drug store.

Q—No. Now you think again. Where did your daddy say you get the cows in Chicago? A—At the drug store. My daddy said you get everything there.

Q—All right. And are you going to school in Chicago? A—Oh, yes. In Chicago-New York.

Q—Chicago and New York are different places, Claire. You can't go to school in both places. A—My daddy says they're just the same, except that Chicago is better.

Q—Then why do you think you'll go to school in New York? A—Because they have more Indians and cowboys there, and they all shoot everybody else. I have to go now and kill some rabbits. Bang! Bang!

Yamashita Plea Denied by High Court by 6-2

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to save Jap Gen. Yamashita from death on the gallows.

Chief Justice Stone delivered the Supreme Court's 6-2 decision. Justice Jackson, now acting as chief U. S. prosecutor in the Nazi trials in Europe, had no part in Yamashita's case. Justice Murphy and Rutledge dissented.

The court overruled Yamashita on all points. He was convicted by the American military commission in Manila of condoning uncounted atrocities by his invading troops in the Philippines.

High Court Rules For Esquire

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Supreme Court today struck down a Postoffice Department attempt to bar Esquire Magazine and its lightly clad ladies from use of second class mail.

Justice Douglas delivered the high court's 8-0 decision.

"To withdraw the second class rate from this publication today because its contents seemed to one official not good for the public would sanction withdrawal of the second class rate tomorrow from another periodical whose social or economic views seemed harmful to another official."

Stricken GI Baby Rushed to Boston

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (INS)—Army and port authorities cut red tape today to rush 7-month-old Malcolm Williams to a hospital in Boston.

The infant, son of former M Sgt. Harry Williams, 30, of Madison, Me., was one of the GI babies arriving on the Argentina.

The baby became ill on the voyage. Learning of the illness, a severe stomach disorder, ship's officers permitted the mother to leave the ship as soon as it docked.

The father, who had driven to New York to meet his wife and son, started immediately for Boston, where the infant will be placed in Children's Hospital.

President, Murray in Steel Talk

By Associated Press

President Truman held a hurriedly-called conference with Labor Secretary Schwelmbach and CIO President Murray today in a renewed White House effort to end the steel strike deadlock.

A strike of 3500 AFL tugboat workers in New York harbor, which Mayor O'Dwyer estimated would cut off 80 per cent of the city's normal flow of fuel and about half its food, began today.

Some 35,000 longshoremen refused to load or unload any ship which normally would be operated by strikers.

More than 66,000 workers in related industries are idle because of the lack of steel. Officials of the Ford Motor Co. plant at Chester, Pa., employing 3000, announced the plant would close Wednesday.

The CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union started a work stoppage in the brass industry today, with 14,400 members affected in Connecticut and at Buffalo, N. Y.

Somerville's Ford Plant to Shut Down

The assembly line at the Ford plant in Somerville which has turned out approximately 3500 cars and trucks at the rate of 150 a day since last November, will be completely shut down by Friday of this week because of the steel strike.

Layoff of 1000 assemblers at the plant will begin Wednesday and the tieup will result from the impossibility of getting parts, held up by the nationwide strike of steel workers.

At the Ford truck assembly line at Somerville started rolling in Nov., 1945, and up to the present time about 1500 light trucks have been put out. A month after the trucks were started the passenger car line started in operation.

Cop Found Slain In Police Car

MINNEOLA, N. Y., Feb. 4 (AP)—Patrolman John West of the Nassau County police was found slain today in his police car on an estate near Syosset, N. Y.

The car was discovered by a police plane when West failed to return to Minneola headquarters after radioing that he was bringing in occupants of a car wanted by the police.

Law's Loopholes Shield Black Market in Babies

MARION JOYCE, CHILD GUARDIANSHIP DIRECTOR
Points Out Legal Protection in Black Market

By PAULINE WARREN

Legal loopholes in the State's adoption laws have fostered a flourishing black market in babies in Massachusetts. Authorities are forced to stand by helplessly while offenders grow rich by their traffic in helpless human pawns, taking advantage of the eagerness of childless couples and the emotional upsets of unwed mothers. It is not an organized, black market but it is flourishing because doctors and lawyers can make perfectly legal collections at both ends and can charge as much as the traffic will bear for "medical" or "legal" services.

Gov. Tobin recognized the situation after listening to the importunings of his own welfare department and organizations and individuals in the State interested in the welfare of children and babies. In his message to the legislature this year he urged creation of a commission to study and revise the State's adoption laws, and at a hearing last week before the legislature's legal affairs committee the first hint of a flourishing racket came to light.

Since that time persons distinguished for their work in adoption cases have disclosed their certainty from day-to-day experience that babies are bartered for profit but explained how the law made them helpless to halt the practice.

Miss Marion Joyce, director of the State's division of child guardianship, sums up the despair of all social workers in adoption cases in their effort to combat the practice.

"We have a certain amount of indirect evidence that the market flourishes," she said. "But getting direct evidence under the existing laws is an impossibility."

The legal protection which cloaks the operations of the offenders under existing laws was pointed out by four other authorities, Dr. Alice Channing, research specialist in the Simmons School of Social Work; Miss Mary A. Mason, assistant professor in the

Why Reds Kill Hub UNO Hope

By FLORA LEWIS

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Soviet delegation on the United Nations committee investigating suggested sites for permanent headquarters asked that Massachusetts be ruled out because of a Boston speech "showing hostility to the United Nations," according to an unofficial version of the committee's report obtained today from a reliable source.

The committee has arrived in London with a recommendation to establish the United Nations home in the North Greenwich-Stamford area of Connecticut and New York.

The informant said the report showed other members of the committee did not feel that the speech, made by Judge John E. Swift of the Massachusetts Superior Court, should be sufficient ground for excluding Massachusetts.

They called attention to the "exceptionally cordial reception accorded us in Boston" and the resolution adopted by the state Legislature thanking the United Nations for sending the committee.

G. F. Saksin, Russian on the committee, said in a statement included in the report the speech showed Massachusetts did not have the necessary political atmosphere for smooth functioning of the United Nations.

(Asked for comment during a court recess at Suffolk Superior Court, Judge Swift said "No comment is needed and no comment will be made.")

(Gov. Tobin declined comment "until I see Delegate Saksin's statement.")

The speech was made on Sunday, Jan. 20, at a public meeting in Boston presided over by James H. Flanagan with Gov. Maurice J. Tobin, Sen. David I. Walsh and Mayor James M. Curley of Boston in the audience of 1500, according to the informant.

It was pointed out in the report "nobody present at the meeting objected to the speech."

The report is to be presented formally at a meeting of the full United Nations Committee on permanent site tomorrow.

Saksin's statement as now drawn up reads:

"We must in our report to the assembly refer to this incident and draw the conclusion that, in view of this political atmosphere and attitude toward the United Nations among these responsible 1500 persons of Massachusetts, we could not in any case consider any part of the State of Massachusetts as a probable site for the capital of the United Nations, since it does not correspond to qualification one of the essential criteria laid down by the interim committee on headquarters."

The committee report provided a partial answer to protests of landowners on the recommended area. It called attention to "the good-will value of avoiding, as far as possible, evacuation of the local population in the United Nations zone."

In a brief survey of four places inspected, the committee made the following observations:

1—BLUE HILLS—Good land, communications and school facilities. The district is "rather hemmed in on the west, south and east by villages and small towns and it would not be easy to extend the site beyond the 40 square miles, or thereabouts, which are at present available."

2—HYDE PARK—The United Nations might be able to have their own port on the Hudson. "This district is apt to be rather hot in summer," and "the area does not lend itself very easily to the building of a city inasmuch as there is only one strip of land which lends itself to city planning."

3—NORTH SHORE—"The coolest summer climate of any of the areas which we visited," although "the road approaches to Boston leave a good deal to be desired, but we are told plans are in hand to improve them."

4—NORTH STAMFORD—"Nearer to New York than any of the others which we inspected . . . Excellent building and residential sites . . . The present population of the district is about 3000."

Connecticut Towns Fight UNO Capital

GREENWICH, Ct., Feb. 4 (AP)—This normally peaceful community, its nearby hills dotted with homes of many wealthy New York city lawyers, bankers and business men, was torn by turmoil today over its inclusion in the recommended site for the United Nations world capital. An estimated one-third of the town of Greenwich lies in the 42 square miles of Connecticut and Westchester County, N. Y., countryside rated No. 1 by the UNO site committee, which returned to London to report tomorrow to the general assembly.

Protests also came from some of the New York state communities affected, especially the 200-year-old town of North Castle, all of whose 1000 inhabitants live in the proposed site, but it was in Greenwich that the storm struck hardest.

"We hope," said Wilkie Bushby, leader of the opposition forces, "that we can stop this thing. This community doesn't want to make a sacrifice so UNO secretaries can go to night clubs in New York city."

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The United Nations military staff committee, which will control the world's international police force, met for the first time today. It was a secret session.

Urges Women's Pay Law Change

Urging an amendment to the law providing equal pay for women doing comparable work with men, Jarvis Hunt of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts today declared the existing law "is keeping a lot of business out of the State."

Hunt told the legislative labor and industries committee that the pay variations should be based on differences in seniority, experience, training, skill and ability. He said the present law is "so confusing no attorney can advise how a wage scale should be set."

George Markham, legislative counsel for the State CIO, opposed the amendment. He said the proposal would "confuse matters even more, rather than clarify them."

Hunt also favored legislation to permit women to work in textile mills from 6 to 11 p. m.

JUDGE JOHN E. SWIFT

What Judge Swift Said

Judge John E. Swift, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, delivered the fiery denunciation of Russia at a banquet in his honor at the Copley-Plaza, Jan. 20, attended by Governor Tobin, Mayor Curley and Absp. Richard J. Cushing and 1500 other civic leaders, which the Soviets claim "showed hostility to the UNO."

"The time has come for some world leader to arise and say to Russia, 'Thus far thou shalt go, and no farther,'" declared Superior Court Justice Swift.

"At this very hour, in deliberations from which the name of God has been banished, the United Nations Organization is busy forging the machinery to hold by military force the subjugated millions of Finland, Poland, Austria and Yugoslavia under the banner of Red Russia."

"All the world knows that godless Russia has torn the Atlantic Charter to tatters and enslaved millions of our fellow Catholics."

"Yet, by one shameless appeasement after another we have failed to uphold our American ideals and now we are asked to rivet the fetters more firmly on those subjugated millions by guaranteeing the status quo."

"Sinister forces that now dominate the world are hastening, behind the false front of 'antifascism' to foist a Communist government on Catholic Spain and Catholic Argentina, so that once the tyrant government is established the blood of American boys can be spilled to maintain it."

The jurist declared that the K. of C. was opposed to "territorial annexation" and advocated world disarmament and the abolition of peace-time conscription.

Judge Swift was honored for his election to the leadership of the nation's Knights of Columbus.

Reds Drop UNO Fight on Britain

By JOHN H. HIGHTOWER

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Russia agreed tonight to drop her demands for security council action against the British in Greece—with the understanding Britain would withdraw her troops there as soon as possible.

Russia had complained to the UNO that the presence of British troops in Greece endangered peace.

The sudden modification in the Soviet stand came after another acrimonious exchange between the British and Soviet representatives, Ernest Bevin and Andrei Vishinsky, who first debated the question Friday.

Foreign Secy. Bevin declared the Soviet vice-commissar lied when he charged British troops with protecting rightist forces in Greece. Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., American delegate, moved to dismiss the charges, and both France and China, remaining permanent members of the security council, supported Stettinius.

"We are not here to vote each other down," Stettinius told the council.

He said the American government was satisfied British troops in Greece did not constitute a situation likely to endanger peace.

Russia's move to modify her position brought Bevin to his feet again with the assertion:

"I'm not willing to have a declaration on the withdrawal of British troops because Vishinsky doesn't say British troops do not menace peace—does Vishinsky accept that?"

He said he had been willing to accept Stettinius' suggestion that the council simply drop the case, but as far as Vishinsky's statement was concerned, "really I'm not so childish as to fall for that," Bevin asserted.

Urges City Void Sunday Licenses

Revocation of all Sunday licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages was recommended today by City Councilor Joseph Russo of the West End at a city council meeting in which he blasted the licensing board.

Russo told his colleagues granting of licenses is a racket. He charged licenses cost from $30,000 to $50,000 even where liquor stock and furnishings are worth less than $8,000.

"It seems," he said, "it makes no difference who opposes or who favors seven-day licenses. They have no consideration of the children who live near these places."

Fifteen-year-old Dolores Figlioline, of Marion st., East Boston, located last week in Providence with her sister, Helen, 17, after being missing from home for a week, was again reported missing today by her mother, Mrs. Helen Figlioline.

Police, however, said they would take no action in the case unless the girl failed to appear at East Boston court Wednesday, where she and her sister were scheduled to appear to face delinquency charges.

Navy Man Changes 'Winds' Testimony

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Naval Capt. L. F. Safford, reversing his previous Pearl Harbor testimony, said today "I have no suspicion against any individual" as to Eligh Command violation of laws against destroying public records.

Safford had testified that "suspicion exists" in his mind that Gen. George C. Marshall and Adm. Harold R. Stark had so broken the law.

The question at issue was whether copies of a "Winds code" message which Safford said gave Washington a three-day tipoff of the Jap attack on Dec. 7, 1941, was received here and later destroyed.

Under questioning by Sen. Lucas, (D., Illinois, of the Senate-House committee, Safford said he did not suspect responsibility for destruction of the records rested with a group of naval officers, as he had said before.

"But you do have suspicion against Stark and Marshall?" asked Lucas.

"I have no proper basis for suspicions against any individual," Safford replied. He added it was a fact that official records "are missing" but he did not know how.

Earlier, Safford had been asked by Rep. Clark:

"Do you mean even to create the suspicion in the minds of this committee or to the public that either Gen. Marshall or Adm. Stark violated the law of this nation by destroying public records to cover up a mistake?"

"In my own mind that suspicion exists," Safford replied.

Spared From Jail On Brother's Plea

The plea of his Marine corporal brother he wanted him to be his best man at his wedding Thursday and then to go into business with him saved Jacob Greenberg, 26, Ellington st., Dorchester, from a jail sentence in Suffolk Superior court today. Greenberg appeared before Judge Brown on his appeal from a six-month sentence imposed in lower court when he was convicted of larceny of $8 from Harrison Blake, a sailor, last Jan. 6. Judge Brown imposed a six-month suspended sentence and placed Greenberg on probation for one year, ordering him to make restitution.

These Days New International

By GEORGE I. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE THIRD INTERNATIONAL, often referred to as the Comintern, was an instrument of Soviet policy for the propagation of social, political and economic Communism throughout the world.

In each country, where it operated, it sought to undermine the existing order; it fomented civil strife, labor disturbances and revolutions; it propagated the concept that religion was an opiate for the masses.

But most of all, it was in every country an alien conspiracy, utilizing willing natives, for the establishment of a Russian hegemony over all peoples.

It was an effective force and an efficient agency. On May 22, 1943, principally through the good offices of Franklin D. Roosevelt, it was announced in Moscow, that the Third International had been dissolved.

Communist parties, in such countries where they were permitted to exist, went national, even patriotic.

The pattern was everywhere the same as in the United States where Earl Browder suddenly proclaimed his party to the right of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and more patriotic than the Colonial Dames.

DURING THE war years, while the United States was appeasing the Russian at Moscow, Teheran and Yalta and supplying the wherewithal through Lend-Lease, the Communists acted according to this pattern.

Immediately after V-E Day, whatever that might have meant, Communist parties reappeared everywhere under the old leadership and pursued old patterns. The new patriotisms were discarded.

In the United States, Earl Browder was dismissed and humiliated and Eugene Dennis was made the leader of the party. The world revolution was on again.

On October 3, 1945, a world federation of trade unions was founded in Paris under Communist aegis. This is the New International, the successor to the Third.

The Communists were smart enough to make Paris, rather than Moscow, the center of this new organ, and to concentrate on left-wing trade unionism rather than International Communism. The American representative is the CIO; the AFL would have nothing to do with the outfit.

IT IS THIS organization that Soviet Russia seeks to foist on UNO. If UNO recognizes it why not also recognize the International Chamber of Commerce, the Society of Friends and the Salvation Army?

If UNO is not a society of nations, why not make it a body of international federations, including the International Red Cross and the International Boy Scouts?

Perhaps in time, it will become a conglomeration of international organizations like the International Chiefs of Police and Rotary.

"The New Times," a Moscow magazine, says of this:

"... The Soviet Union—the most consistent champion of the liberty of nations and friendship among nations—" emerged from the unparalleled trials of war more powerful and more strongly steered than ever.

"In the other Democratic countries the war has revealed what sources of strength are inherent in the working class and the kindred labouring sections of the population.

"However, it would be a profound mistake to believe that the servants of reaction regard their cause as lost and are willing to leave the stage."

"On the contrary, every day brings new evidence that the champions of reaction in all countries are extremely active and are coming out more and more openly.

"They are seeking for ways and means of foisting the whole burden of the economic consequences of the devastating war on the shoulders of the toiling people, on the working class, 'Again the spectre of unemployment is haunting millions of working class families in the capitalist countries.

"Again brazen adventurers, who have learned nothing, are coming forward, literally on the morrow of a ruinous war, and are calling for new wars."

DO YOU KNOW anybody like that in the United States? Know anybody who wants new wars? As this is perhaps the only capitalist country left in all the world, an island in a sea of varieties of Socialism, they must mean us.

But surely, this country wants no war; in fact, we have even agreed to let the Russians share our victories over Japan.

So that statement is the bunk, pure and simple. But it is, nonetheless, the Russian explanation for the world federation of trade unions.

It is the platform of the New International. It tells the whole story.

Tomasello Urges Curb On Divorces

Unless the grounds for divorce in Massachusetts are made more restrictive the courts will be clogged with such cases, Judge Tomasello of municipal court declared today before the joint legislative committee on legal affairs.

The jurist appeared in support of his bill to make only adultery or impotency legal justification for divorce. He was echoed by Mrs. Charles Comerford, Belmont, former president of the Proprietary Club, and Mrs. Andrew Porter, also of Belmont.

Judge Tomasello told the legislators an average of 300 divorce petitions per month had been filed in Suffolk County during 1945. Last month, he added, there were 350.

"Massachusetts divorces," he asserted, "are the public's laughing stock and no one knows how high they will soar. Yet experience shows that second marriages are no happier than first marriages. War hysteria may have been a factor in the trend but I believe it was only a minor factor."

The judge predicted many married women who enjoyed comparatively high earnings in war jobs will become "irked" at married life for lack of spending money and will follow the divorce trail.

Siple will appear Wednesday before Circuit Judge Leonard D. Verdier, who will determine the degree of murder and impose sentence.

Police Help Revise Civil Service Manual

Thirteen police officers, including members of the Boston force and chiefs from various cities throughout the state, today began work with the civil service commission at the State House to revise and correct the annual manual published for guidance of candidates taking examination for police departments.

They were invited to work with the commission by Chairman James E. O'Brien and Director Thomas J. Greehan.

Ex-GI Wins Divorce in Triangle

His wife used allotments he sent her from overseas to finance two trips for herself and another man to New York, Charles D. Cutter, Gordon st., Allston, testified today in Suffolk Probate Court where he was granted an uncontested divorce on grounds of infidelity.

In granting the divorce Judge Mahoney commented:

"That is the trouble today with you fellows returning from overseas. You went to protect your home and other homes. When you return you find that your own home has been destroyed."

Cutter told the court he and his wife, Thelma, were married in Feb. 1942, and that he went overseas a year later. He said they had a joint bank account.

The ex-soldier said he was discharged last November and on his return noticed his wife "acting strange." When he questioned her, he said, she told him she loved another man, who was divorced and the father of two children.

Gordon said $2000 in the bank account was "gone and she said she had spent it on the two trips to New York with the other man, and for clothes. He told the court he went to Maine for three days to give his wife time to think, but on his return she was gone and in a note confessed her love for the other man.

Ruth Berzon, Commonwealth ave., Allston, was granted a divorce from Charles Berzon after testifying he had told her he was tired of married life and preferred the life of a traveling salesman. She said he hit her with a book and shook her.

Joseph Cullinane, Patrolman, Dies

Joseph P. Cullinane, 49, member of the police force for nearly 24 years, died today in City Hospital after an illness of four weeks. He lived in Wrentham st., Dorchester.

He joined the department July 19, 1922, and was a special officer for more than 15 years. He was commended three times since 1933 for his outstanding work in arresting robbery and burglary gangs.

He leaves his wife, Marie, and three children.

68 Nuns, Priest Flee Cleveland Fire

CLEVELAND, Feb. 4 (INS)—Sixty-eight nuns and a priest escaped uninjured when a four-alarm fire destroyed a convent today. The fire started during mass in a part of Villa Angela Academy, formerly used as a boarding school for boys. One nun, Sister Mary Patrick, was carried from the building.

Thirteen died Saturday in a fire in a Catholic home for the aged in a nearby suburb.

Mothers Plead For Nurseries

Seventy-two young Boston mothers, all of them accompanied by at least one small child, descended on City Hall in a shouting, at times unruly throng today to protest against the prospective closing of six day-time nurseries which had cared for children of women war workers. The nurseries throughout the nation had been expected to close last September as the result of withdrawal of government support but were continued to the end of February by the intervention of President Truman after a nation-wide protest.

The throng greeted Mayor Curley with cheers when he arrived at his office and went immediately to the waiting room.

Mrs. Arthur Timpson of Warren st., Roxbury, as spokesman, presented him with petitions she said were signed by 191 mothers of 224 children. She said all were employed at an average of $25 weekly and could not afford to send their children to private nurseries.

Some, she said, were wives of servicemen and others widows and divorcees, but that all had to work.

She said there was a bill pending in the Legislature under which the State would maintain such nurseries with some help from the city.

"We ask you to keep these nurseries open four months after March 1," she said. "It will cost the city $10,000."

She said Gov. Tobin had declared he was in favor of the legislation and that there was good prospect it would be approved.

Robert DeFruzo, Eaton st., West End, presented the mayor with petitions as the spokesman for West End mothers.

"You have until March 1," the mayor told them. "There is a bill in the Legislature with fair prospect of passage. I shall be glad to co-operate with you and help in getting this bill passed, if it is possible. Now don't let these children catch cold on the way home."

Mrs. Timpson said the women would return to City Hall later today to request the City Council to support their protest and many of them piled into taxicabs to take their children home.

Five extra policemen were called to the hall to handle the throng, which included a dozen mothers from each of the nursery districts, about 100 small children,

Nylon Nightmare

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—A whisper, "nylons," spread through a south side store. Soon 500 congregated at the stocking counter.

The store manager called police. A sergeant arrived with 18 men. He jumped on the counter and called for order but was holed. A patrolman who took a bold stand in front of the counter was pushed 50 feet down the aisle.

The store manager called off the sale.

many of them in their mothers' arms, and several of the supervisors employed at the nurseries.

As the throng arrived, it lined up in the first floor lobby facing the front door, apparently planning to make a personal protest to Mayor Curley when he arrived.

Police finally prevailed on them to march upstairs to the waiting room of the mayor's office, and there, with Frank Howland, the mayor's chief secretary, struggled to maintain a semblance of order.

A modern touch was added with several of the mothers applying make-up as they waited, or puffing on cigarettes while the children romped around the room or chased each other through hallways, with harried police officers in pursuit.

One youngster was collared as he was about to slide down one of the long banisters on the stairway.

Alaskan Liner Ashore, Asks Aid

SEATTLE, Feb. 4 (AP)—The liner Yukon, passenger ship in the Alaskan service, carrying a crew of 124, went aground on the rock-studded Alaska coast 40 miles south of Seward at 6 a. m. today and immediately sent out SOS calls, the Coast Guard reported.

Two cutters, the Onondaga and the Cedar, were ordered under forced draft to the vessel's aid. The Onondaga was more than 100 miles away.

Three hours later, the Coast Guard could get no response by radio from the Yukon.

FBI Tip on Bride Told in Vet's Suit

He had to learn from the FBI that the girl he married and left behind when he went overseas had previously married others, Harold A. Craig, 29, of Claremont ter., Swampscott, testified in Salem Probate Court today.

And from what the FBI told him after he reached Europe, Craig said, she had not been divorced from her other husbands. Judge John A. Costello continued the case, in which the former serviceman seeks an annulment, explaining he wanted the bride, Rita Craig of Lynn, more "properly identified."

Craig told the court the FBI informed him his allotment to her had been stopped because she had married Charles Ward in Bangor, Me., July 14, 1938, and John H. Campbell of Chelsea Aug. 22, 1940, before going through a ceremony with him at Lynn city hall Feb. 17, 1941, four months before he was sent overseas.

Optical Head Phones Wife, Ends Life

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. Feb 4 (AP)—Well-to-do Ernest duPont Meyrowitz shot himself to death in his home here after phoning his estranged wife at a New York hotel he was going to commit suicide, police said today. Meyrowitz, 62, was president of E. B. Meyrowitz Co., Inc., New York city optical concern. His wife, the former Jean Gorsline, was his secretary before their marriage in 1939.

tractive brunette, has five wishes she wants fulfilled here in America with her husband, Jacob Siegel of Homer st., Newton Center. She wants three babies, a dog and a home.

One ex-GI had a six-word answer to the oft-asked question of why American soldiers overseas had been so attracted to foreign girls that they made them their brides.

"Love is where you find it," was the terse but all-embracing explanation given by Arthur W. Strand, former Army private, of Pleasant st., Dorchester.

Strand is here to greet his wife and their 10-month-old daughter, Barbara. Mrs. Strand is the former Lena Barr of London, a secretary at Lloyds when the Dorchester GI met her at the skating rink.

The New England group was scheduled to leave New York at 6 p. m., arriving at South Station in Boston at 11:15.

Other Greater Boston brides and addresses of their husbands are: Mrs. Francis G. Conely, Armandine st., Dorchester; Mrs. Frank B. Collins, Newton st., and Mrs. Anthony Covina, Pearl st., both of Somerville; Mrs. Francis M. Connolly and son, Kenneth, Massachusetts ave., Arlington; Mrs. Richard M. Hoyt, Eastern ave., Arlington; Mrs. Antonio Guarino, Henry st., Malden; Mrs. Arthur J. Girling, Gay st., Westwood; Mrs. Philip J. Jolowick, Mountain ave., Revere; Mrs. Herschell P. Hold Woman in Fatal Fire at Portland

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 4 (AP)—A warrant issued today charged Laurel E. Grenier, 27, formerly of Biddeford, with manslaughter in the death of Archie Paradis, 50, one of four persons who died in a Jan. 7 Cumberland ave. tenement block fire. She will be arraigned Wednesday.

Miss Grenier, a tenant of the building, was quoted by Joseph

A. P. Flynn of the state insurance department as having admitted she threw a smoldering bag of trash into a hallway of the building the night of the fire, and to have tossed a cupful of water on it later.

Curley Offers Shoe Plant Site

Mayor Curley announced today he was working on plans to bring a shoe factory with a $1,000,000 annual payroll for 800 persons to South Boston.

He said the site was at Summer and First sts., where the city owns land under terms of the Michael Francis Cahill Fund, a trust recently put up for public bidding.

The mayor, chairman of the fund's trustees by virtue of his office, said the highest bid was $57,000 but he had contacted the shoe company, which operates five factories in Massachusetts, and had received an offer of $60,000.

Negotiations elsewhere might result in the city obtaining as much as $75,000 for the land, Curley ventured, but he pointed out that if the buyer should use the site for a warehouse, for illustration, very little new employment would be assured residents of South Boston.

Curley Asks Council O. K. Of $45,652,035 Budget

Mayor Curley today sent to the city council his annual budget calling for expenditures of $45,652,035 for all city departments, except the school committee which has a separate budget. The budget is $1,400,771 less than the 1945 budget prepared by Gov. Tobin just before he left the mayor's office.

The budget was submitted as a lump sum, Mayor Curley explaining in a message to the council that under the law he is required to file a budget by the first Monday in February, but because of the pressure of business, attendant on a new administration he has not yet had time to complete his review of budget statistics.

The mayor told the council that he will shortly file a segregated budget with them giving exact expenditures to be made by each department.

The segregated budget makes specific allotments for salaries, equipment and supplies and was used by the city during Curley's last term as mayor.

Justice Hudson Mounts Bench

Judge Eugene A. Hudson today assumed his post as an associate justice of the Superior Court, taking the bench in the eighth jury session in Suffolk Superior Court before a crowd of 300, including members of his family and of the judiciary.

The new justice, formerly chief secretary to Gov. Tobin, was praised by Acting Chief Justice Nelson P. Brown.

Mrs. Tobin, wife of the Governor, was present with Judge Hudson's 81-year-old mother, Mrs. Julia Hudson of Hudson st. Somerville, his sister and two brothers.

$10,000 Offer For Divorce Told

Her wealthy husband offered her $10,000 to divorce him, plus a weekly income, Mrs. Roslyn Zakon, attractive brunette Brookline socialite, testified today before Judge James F. Reynolds in Reynolds in Dedham probate court.

She asks separate support from George Zakon, Boston liquor dealer, whose income in 1944 was $115,000, according to testimony.

Mrs. Zakon said she met Zakon in Bethlehem, N. H., in 1937.

Mrs. Zakon testified they lived "on a high social plane," but that her husband's temper was too much for her, charging he slapped her and made "insulting remarks."

The case is continuing.

IMPORTANT FACTS FOR SINUS SUFFERERS

In New England, about one out of five have a "germ" disease referred to as Sinus Trouble!

Nine out of ten so affected believe that because of absence of pain, it is merely Catarrh and needs no relief.

More bodily ailments can be traced to Sinus Trouble than to any other single malady.

Doctors claim that over 50% of Arthritis is caused by Sinus Trouble. The lining of the heart may become involved. The kidneys may be attacked. Deafness and middle ear infection are common, necessitating mastoid operations. Moreover, there is apt to be a general debility with a lack of vital energy, in addition to frequent head colds.

REMOVE THE CAUSE AND YOU REMOVE THE TROUBLE. We have records to prove that this can be done!

Treatments can be taken without discomfort, are moderately priced, and administered under a doctor's direction.

Pauley Hurls Lie at Witness Charging Party Cash Offer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley leaped to his feet today to shout it was a "dirty, deliberate lie" that he had sought transfer of an American oil tanker to Mexico in 1941 to turn a prospective $6000 profit to the Democratic party.

Pauley made the declaration as Max Thornburg, former State Dept. oil adviser, described a conversation he said he had held with Pauley, then Democratic national treasurer, in March, 1941.

Thornburg said Pauley sought permission for transfer of a tanker owned by the Mallory estate to a Mexican firm.

During the conversation, Thornburg said Pauley told him:

"There is $6000 in this for me, but I don't want any of it I want to turn it over to the Democratic campaign fund."

Jumping to his feet, Pauley

Fisheries Association Elects J. A. Fulham

John A. Fulham, re-elected today to a seventh term as president of Massachusetts Fisheries Ass'n, declared there was no intention by the fishing industry to quit Boston.

He said the dispute between boat owners and fishermen which has crippled the industry for eight weeks "is a temporary problem and I hope it will be straightened out shortly."

Prizes Will Be Paid for Best 'Why I Love My Dog' Letters

Most dog owners are always ready to talk about their pets. Here is a chance to tell about the devotion and loyalty of your canine pal.

The Record-American is sponsoring a contest for all dog-owners. These newspapers will pay five dollars each for the best letters on "Why I Love My Dog." The letters should not be more than 200 words long, written on one side of the paper.

All letters should be addressed to the Anti-Vivisection Editor, 5

Winthrop sq., Boston, 6, Mass. Be sure to write your name and address on your entry.

The winning letters will be published in later issues of the Record-American.

All dog owners should enter this contest to prove to the world the love of their faithful pets and to show legislators now considering passage of a state law to end vivisection that dog-lovers in this state are opposed to the cruelty inflicted on these animals in the "name of science."

Recompense!

HOGANSVILLE, Ga., Feb. 4 (AP)—Two years ago Will R. Perkins reported his dog, Fiji, had been stolen. Now he feels there has been a settlement.

Perkins found a note on the door of his home and a puppy lying on the porch the other day. The note said:

"I took your little dog, but am leaving you a little puppy in the place of it."

Firing Squad Visions Rack GI Doomed for Killing Japs

WALLINGTON, N. J., Feb. 4 (AP)—Adam Hicswa said today he had received an appeal from his nephew, PFC Joseph E. Hicswa, for aid in getting a civilian court in the United States to review the soldier's Army court-martial death sentence for slaying two Jap civilians.

The uncle said the 20-year-old soldier told of knowing "how a person feels when he's about to die," and wrote:

"I think my sentence has been put to extremes compared to some war criminal cases. But what can I do? I am just a minor item to the big boys, and their word is law."

The letter, dated Jan. 11 and postmarked Jan. 17, also said: "I am sentenced to be shot. I dream of it, I think of it all day long. I can see myself in front of the firing squad and it keeps coming into my mind, no matter what I do. I just can't seem to get it off my mind.

"I'll go crazy thinking about it if they don't hurry up. While waiting, they have me in a small cell. And, God, it is cold! It's about 10 by 14. It has no stove and they have a small hole in the floor for a latrine.

"They work me 12 hours a day, Sundays included. Boy, they are really sticking it to me."

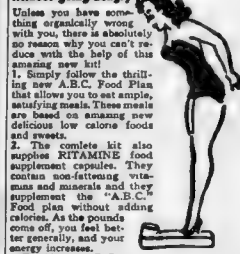

Judge Orders Guilty Seaman to Quit Hub

A discharged Navy veteran, now serving in the Merchant Marine, was ordered out of town today by Judge Elias Shamon in municipal court after the judge found him guilty of attempting to steal from his former Navy buddies.

The seaman, Walter A. Riggs, 19, of Wilmington, N. C., was charged with larceny after six sailors caught him going through their clothing in a dormitory at the Seamen's Club in North st.

Telephone Progress Report

BEGINNING with our September 1 waiting list, and adding new applications up to January 1, we were working on 188,000 requests for service in the last four months of 1945.

BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 1 AND JANUARY 1

70,000 people

HAD BEEN SUPPLIED WITH TELEPHONES

EACH PICTURE REPRESENTS 2000 PEOPLE

BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 1 AND JANUARY 1

about 18,000

HAD MOVED AWAY OR FOR SOME OTHER REASON NO LONGER NEEDED SERVICE

We're cutting down our waiting list—installing telephones at a faster rate than ever before.

Here's the story in a nutshell:

Waiting list September 1	119,000
New applications Sept. 1-Jan. 1	69,000
Total	188,000
Reduction in waiting list Sept. 1-Jan. 1	88,000
Waiting list January 1	100,000

We hope to continue supplying thousands of new telephones each month—to fill all orders on the waiting list by late summer.

SWITCHBOARD EQUIPMENT

Until now, most of the new telephones have gone to places where only the instrument itself was needed to provide service.

But we have begun to make progress on the installation of central office equipment, required in about 450 communities where existing switchboards are unable to carry additional loads. This paves the way towards supplying telephones everywhere they are needed.

Veterans' Friend

Q—Are men now being inducted entitled under the discharge to Veterans' benefits under the G. I. Bill, compensation for injuries incurred in service, and membership in the American Legion? G. L. J., Pittsfield, Mass.

A—Service personnel having 90 days or more service after 16 September, 1910, and before the War is declared officially ended are entitled to G. I. Bill benefits. Compensation for service-connected disabilities are pensionable, differing slightly for war or peace-time service. American Legion membership is open to war service veterans.

Q—If a man misrepresents his marital status on his discharge paper can he be penalized? A. D., Nashua, N. H.

A—An enlisted man is not interviewed when his discharge certificate is made out. Necessary information is taken from his classification record. It is possible this man had married subsequent to enlistment at which time he was interviewed and his classification record had his status as single. If he neglected to report his marriage, this record would still have his status as single.

Q—How may I obtain a "Victory Ribbon," which I didn't receive the day I was discharged? J. N. M., Springfield, Mass.

A—The "Victory Ribbon" may be purchased at any Army Uniform Shop by presenting proof of eligibility, such as your Discharge Certificate.

Q—Is it possible now for Army wives and families to go to Alaska if their husbands are stationed there? Is transportation provided? H. C., Providence, R. I.

A—Transportation of Army and Navy personnel dependents to Alaska is authorized and at government expense if the Army man is an officer, warrant officer, or enlisted man above the fourth grade. Request for transportation must be made by the serviceman of his commanding officer.

Q—Can a veteran borrow $2000 to build a three-room cottage, the cost of which will not exceed $2000 and make monthly payments? L. R., Holyoke, Mass.

For Casual Miss

Fire Power—The Prinz Eugen, former Nazi cruiser, that will be one of the 96 ships atom-bombed in May, lets go with her two forward twin 8-inchers in a fire power demonstration for naval observers off the East Coast. She was put through rigorous test run from Boston to Philadelphia.

Wool Plaid For Spring

Sand and brown dominate in this simple button front casual wool plaid with deep-set three-quarter sleeves. The suit was one of the new fashions modeled at the Spring Fashion Show in New York.

One Hurt

State fire marshal inspectors today were investigating the cause of this general alarm fire which destroyed the three-story Lasters' building in Lynn. One fireman was hurt in the blaze, which wrecked a cafe, labor halls and athletic clubs.

Brings GI Brides

The Army transport Argentine rests at her pier in New York city after her arrival today from England with a cargo of 626 British wives and children of American servicemen. It was a stormy crossing for the passengers, most of whom were seasick.

Arrivals

Up in on the Argentine, Mrs. Dorothy Bely and daughter, Jojo Ann, 17 months (left), and Mrs. Margaret Pearson and child, I, get a look at the big city from the deck of the ship. The Brys are Kansans; the Pearsons, hided for Colorado.

Going Ashore

Ready to go ashore from the transport Argentine are these British war brides and their children ... after the transport docked in New York. They are (l. to r.) Mrs. Veronica Lermer, with Veronica (standing) and Barbara (in arms), en route to Genesee, Ill., to join GI hubbydad, and Mrs. William Mehen, with Patricia Ann, on way to Rockford, Ia. They came to America with some 600 other war brides and children after a stormy trip from Southampton, England.

VETS COME FIRST

A SURVEY by the Associated Press has disclosed that New England's forty colleges and universities, crowded to capacity by 67,000 students, are turning away hundreds of war veterans who hoped to continue their education.

The survey has also disclosed the significant fact that ONLY A FEW OF THESE INSTITUTIONS HAVE INCREASED THEIR TEACHING STAFFS.

This may be the trouble.

Enlarged faculties would obviously permit enlarged student enrollments.

More servicemen could be accommodated and the schools would appear worthier in the eyes of the people who are supporting them with endowments, legacies, statutory concessions and tax exemptions.

Competent instructors should be easy to obtain, since there are thousands of college graduates among the returning soldiers.

In this emergency, no college or university can honestly regard itself as "crowded to capacity" as long as it has an assembly hall, chapel or corridor which may be converted into a classroom.

TRUE PATRIOT

LONG AGO, in the sacrificial days of America's beginning, Nathan Hale, standing on a British gallows, said:

"I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

Now, from the war crimes trial of General Homma in Manila, comes another story, equally sublime, of American courage speaking firm and clear in the very embrace of death.

Ten American prisoners of war, captured after the fall of Corregidor, were being murdered before a Japanese firing squad because another prisoner had escaped.

Rifles fired and the ten fell. But one, Sgt. Isaac Landry of Dutchtown, La., rose again, slowly, drenched with blood.

He faced the firing squad, tapped his chest above his heart and shouted:

"Come on, lit here. LONG LIVE AMERICA!"

Then the rifles fired again.

Like Nathan Hale and Isaac Landry, Americans have always been able to attain the heights of selfless devotion in war.

Why cannot we summon SOME of that devotion now, in peace, to put an end to internecine strife?

If Isaac Landry could DIE crying "Long Live America," can we not at least submerge self-interest to the extent of understanding each other and working together to MAKE America live in happiness and prosperity instead of floundering in spiritual confusion and economic chaos?

ONLY SOLUTION

AFTER THE FIRST of March, parking will be restricted to one side of many Boston streets to reduce the congestion that is becoming increasingly ruinous.

Everybody hopes for the best, but hardly anybody expects it.

Patrolmen and motorists will have more cause to disagree.

Arrests and fines will soar to record-breaking levels.

Instead of riding a half-mile to find a parking space, persons who come here for business or pleasure will probably ride two miles.

Thousands of cars will be driven from the city, and with every car will go somebody's hope for a job or higher wage.

The only sensible solution to Boston's parking problem is THE URGENTLY NEEDED GARAGE UNDER THE COMMON.

Legislators who wish to earn their constituents' everlasting gratitude should press for the garage and do everything in their power to insure its being built not later than next May.

I would have women love me in wild fashion
Choose me today and with tomorrow change.
My fond caress would fly with wondering favor
From brunette locks to locks of golden glow.
But most of all I love the unlooked-for meeting.
Those orders in the blood
loosed by a glance,
The conquests of an hour, as swiftly fleeting,
Kisses exchanged at the sole will of chance.

WHEN HER SON, Larry, enlisted in the United States Navy, Mrs. Florence Andre of Lomita, Cal., was 31 years of age. Certainly Mrs. Andre must have been the youngest mother with a son in the armed forces in World War II. If Brooklyn can top this by naming a resident who was a younger war mother even I will be surprised.

BY REQUEST: "How about your Horses & Women Department telling us something about horses for a change?" asks a Baltimorean. That is a reasonable request. Among horse experts it has always been considered unwise to buy an equine with four white feet. The most quoted advice in this respect is worded as follows: One white foot—buy him, Two white feet try him, Three white feet—look well about him, Four white feet—go without him.

Currently active is a race-horse named Snow Boots. His name is inspired by the fact that he has four white feet. Snow Boots recently broke the world's record for a mile and one-sixteenth and many people believe he will win the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. His performance shows him to be a truly remarkable animal. Therefore, we are removing the above quoted advice from our Horses & Women files. I shall also discard it when I go to Saratoga next summer to buy a yearling for my one-horse stable.

STOGIE DEPARTMENT: A resident of Hollywood strongly contradicts the claim that Clark Gable is not a six-footer. Says he: "I work with Mr. Gable's tailor. I know his measurements. He is six feet, one inch tall. Please send two stogies; one for me and one for the boss." Perhaps I am wrong. But then it must be considered that no man takes off his shoes when measured for a suit. Let us hear from Mr. Gable's trainer or gymnasium instructor as to what Clark measures when prepared for a shower bath. Maybe I am being stubborn about this. But the clients have been taking me for plenty of stogies lately. I have to be careful.

PASSING BY: Dorothy Ford. Statuesque night club entertainer. She is six feet, one inch tall. First achieved outstanding success at the world-famous Copacabana night club in Rio de Janeiro. In Rio the night club patrons like (all girls, providing they are brunettes like Carmen

Carmen Miranda

Blondes are not so popular there. I don't know why.

QUERY FROM CLIENT: Q—How can I persuade my husband to take dancing lessons and after that to step out dancing with me now and then? All he wants to do is play poker, golf or go duck hunting, leaving me home all the time. A—A Pittsburgh wife recently reported she had induced her husband to learn the rumba by arranging that lessons be given him by a glamorous brunette. After he had learned to rumba he was so anxious to exhibit the accomplishment she had no difficulty in persuading him to take her out to night clubs.

A BOSTONIAN wants to know which President of the United States had the most children. She adds: "I have a bet with my husband on this. Please, Eddie, don't fail to give me the answer." Be not concerned, lady. This department never fails its clients. Well, hardly ever. Anyway, President Tyler, who was married twice, had 14 children, which is the record for Presidents. President William Harrison, who married only once, did all right, too. He had 10 children.

VANISHING AMERICAN: In the Eighteenth Century there were about 850,000 Indians in the United States. During the Nineteenth Century this number dwindled to around 235,000. Hence the description: "The Vanishing American." But in recent years the Indian population has been increasing with astonishing rapidity. Now there are about 400,000 Indians in the U.S.A. and more being born daily in great numbers. Maybe Nature is getting ready to give this country back to the Indians.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

THE PROPAGANDA which began by fomenting contempt for the "Big Brass" in the American Army and Navy, has now spread until it includes all commissioned officers.

Westbrook Pegler

The campaign was begun by Communists, fellow travelers and radicals, many of whom filtered into the Army, and is now raging in their publications. It frankly promotes hatred of the entire officer "class."

Early in the war, both the Army and Navy openly excluded Communists and fellow travelers from the commissioned ranks. Candidates for commissions who had such political background were quietly but firmly turned down.

The Communist files were eventually closed, and presumably dispersed, and the sifting bureaus were abolished with the explanation that the oath of loyalty to the Constitution prevailed over the notorious mental reservations of all Communists in all such situations.

Most of the Communists, however, aspired to become sergeants at the highest and plant themselves in the propaganda publications, in intelligence and headquarters jobs.

TWO YEARS AGO a service paper called the Mid-Pacific, published in Honolulu, carried a loaded question which its inquiring reporter had addressed to a selection of enlisted men, ostensibly approached at random, picked, it might be suspected, because of their known attitude.

It was a personal attack on a civilian at home who had been a vigorous fighter against thieves, racketeers and Communism in the unions.

Soon afterward a press association, in an inter-office query between the New York and Washington bureaus, a copy of which fell into outside hands, revealed that the question was a "plant" and that the Communists and fellow travelers had at least one of their own on the Mid-Pacific.

General Richardson, in command there, received a story of the message and an interpretation of the little coup. He made known his decision to permit no political motivation in the publications under his command.

He could try, but of course he couldn't suppress such motivation or keep the Communists and radicals out of jobs in the service press. The only way to keep them out is to abolish all such papers which have no legitimate place in any force under military law and discipline.

THE PEOPLE'S DAILY WORLD of San Francisco, in its issue of Friday, Jan. 18, carried a bitter article entitled "Why Soldiers Hate Officers."

This head, he it noted, includes all officers, not merely the "Big Brass."

The story carried the name of John Lord and a foreword said:

"John Lord was a sergeant in the Army. In Honolulu, he served as editor of the Mid-Pacific, second largest Army newspaper in the world. He is now on the staff of the People's Daily World."

In this piece, Lord related an alleged incident, naming no names, although he is now no longer a soldier, in which an enlisted man was said to have been blown up by fumes from an airplane belly tank which, by means of a blowtorch, he was converting into a bathtub for a colonel.

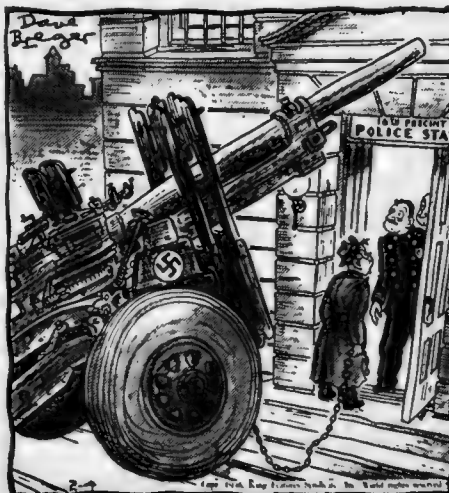

He said, however, that the colonel, like the soldier, did not know that heat would create and explode the fumes.

He related further that soldiers in Ie Shima got mad because their officers had a mess-hall while they messed in the open and that a rumor went around that the officers' mess had been mined with hand-grenades and was to be blown up at night.

"There were plenty of reasons to feel a personal hatred for the enemy," Lord's story said. "And GI's did. But most soldiers hated their own officers more actively than they ever hated the Japanese. It is justified. Until a change is made, any man or woman who enlists in the U. S. armed forces—Army, Navy or Marines—can expect to be fed, housed, clothed and treated like a servant."

THE CURRENT LINE of the Communists and fellow travelers, of course, is consistent with the old purpose of weakening the government of the United States until the point is reached from which rebellion would ensue.

The program seems not only to foment mutiny in the ranks and soldier and sailor riots against the government, itself, but to discourage recruiting for the occupation forces which might put a restraint against Communist expansion in American areas of occupation.

"I understand you want all enemy gunpowder brought back for registration."

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4 — As I said, one reason Billy Rose came to Hollywood was to sell his life story to the movies. He's had many offers but it's Henry Ginsberg who nabbed it for Paramount. Henry's second big buy in a week ("State of the Union" was the other) is the story of the pint-sized Billy, as fabulous as any tale Horatio Alger ever wrote.

He's often been called the Barnum of Show Business. And entirely apart from his successful plays, his personal story would make a swell picture. His song hits, "Million Dollar Baby," "Me and My Shadow" and "The Night Is Young," are all part of the deal.

Maurice Zolotow's Betty Hutton book, "Billy Rose on Broadway," comes out the first of next year, and Harry Tugend, an old friend who is doing the script, will have access to it. I have a hunch Betty Hutton will be in the Rose life story doing her stuff. She was discovered by Rose.

HERE IS SOME big, big news—at least to our industry. Al Lichtman has asked for his release from MGM and—hold everything—he is negotiating with United Artists to buy that company. There's a big denial that MGM is financially interested in the deal. 'Tis said that Al, who is one of the best film men in the business, got his cash from Eastern financiers. When I asked the truth of this story he said, "Don't print it now—it's too early. But, naturally, I would like to buy United Artists and I don't deny I made an offer."

ON HIS WAY to Reno, Stirling Hayden stopped in Hollywood and I'll tell you why. He's going to sign a contract with Paramount and as soon as he gets his divorce from Madeleine Carroll will be back to start on the job. He and Madeleine hoped to keep their split a secret but those things have a way of leaking out. Once it was out, Hayden decided he wanted a divorce immediately and because Madeleine cannot get here until late April he went to Reno. They are both very mysterious about the cause of the divorce, but I happen to know the break came long before the end of the war, but both made a vow they wouldn't officially separate until V-E Day.

THE FEUD between Howard Hawks, Lauren Bacall and Humphrey Bogart has been buried deep and all three have made some added scenes for "The Big Sleep." I must say Bacall has shown good sense in having a frank talk with Howard and saying she wants more than anything, to have good pictures. Bogey, too, echoed her sentiments and so Howard, who is one of our best directors, has gone to work to build up "The Big Sleep." It takes a big person to say "I made a mistake," and that's what the Bogarts did.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Honest, I'm not trying to rib Vic Mature because I hear he's being very good these days. But I heard a story that really tickled me, the chilly evenings being what they are. Seems that when Vic started going with June Haver, Mrs. Haver lent him a couple blankets to use on the studio couch on which he sleeps in his dressing room. But the Mature-Haver romance went cold. Mrs. H. evidently decided Vic might as well be a little colder. She sent her second daughter, Evelyn, to the studio to retrieve the covers!

MAYBE I should tell the inside story as to how Jorja Curtright got her role in "Whistle Stop." It may give all the other secretaries of executives ideas. While she was working for Seymour Nebenzal, typing the script of "Whistle Stop" every time she copied a speech by a character named Fran, Jorja wrote oomph: "This role would be perfect for Jorja Curtright." After reading it several dozen times, Nebenzal said: "Maybe so." Then he had a test made of her. Well, you know the rest. She got the job and, moreover, she's such an attractive girl there will be other movie jobs for her.

A VERY INTERESTING contract has been made by MGM and Richard Leedyn, author of "How Green Was My Valley," Academy winning picture, and "None But the Lonely Heart," which starred Gary Grant. Lewellyn will come to MGM and write a moon picture. That picture will later put into a book, for James Hilton wrote "The Story of Dr. Wassell" and he sold it as a novel. Just what Lewellyn's first idea is, known to MGM but they are mulling.

MELVYN FRANK has just signed a new deal with MGM and his first picture will be "Sea of Grass," starring Spencer Tracy. There were a lot of chuckles when Melvyn went on the steel radio show program right after his wife, Helen Gahagan Douglas, fought the steel industry for and nail and sided all the way with the strikers.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD AT RANDOM In the early summer, Rosemary DeCamp, one of our most popular character actresses, and her husband, Judge Ashton Shuler, of Torrington, will welcome their second child. Lawrence Tierney's new enthusiasm is Joan Riskey, an Earl Carroll girl; James Flavin and Lucille Brown, Universal players, who have been married ten years, expect the stork in May. Al Jolson is hurrying to Miami, and kurying is what I mean, on account of Winston Churchill has expressed a wish to hear him sing; Joe Kirkwood, son of the well-known golfer, who was pretty heartbroken over Eleanor Parker, is consoling himself with Martha Vickers. Mrs. Dick Haymes has gone to Arizona to get rid of a miserable cough. It's unfortunate it happened now when she's ready to start a new career; in spite of Crooner David Street's insistence that all is well with Lois Andrews and himself people in the know doubt it she'll return to him when she gets back from New York.

ARLEEN WHIELAN is denying she expects the stork; when Elsie and Pat O'Brien learned for sure they were expecting a baby they put in long distance calls to all their friends in New York, Milwaukee and elsewhere, they were so excited; the price Claudette Colbert received for the sale of Peyton Hall is said to be a million dollars. It's a very successful apartment house; Greer Garson goes to New York and then on to Rollins College to receive an honorary degree. That's where President Truman, Cordell Hull and the late President Roosevelt received the same honor. Her mother accompanied her; Director Spencer Bennett was presented a gold wrist watch band by the cast and crew of Republic's "Daughter of Don Q." This is his hundredth assignment at that studio. That's all today. Submitted by International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—Gossip in Gotham: Fannie Brice is more seriously ill than she allows her colleagues to suspect. . . . After spending almost a quarter of a million dollars on "One Touch of Venus," Mary Pickford is peddling it around. . . .

Martha Kaye The Louis Busches (Janet Blair of the films) have their intimates wondering. . . . Billy Rose's sister Polly, will walk down the aisle with Alex Gottlieb, the Warner Brothers producer. . . . The Duke and Duchess of Windsor can't wait to get back to the U. S. A. They expect to buy a house here and remain indefinitely. . . . All those headlines about the reunion Jay Orlov planned with Lucky Luciano came as a complete surprise—not to say shock—to him. He hasn't heard from her in many years. . . . Van Johnson will rate a police bodyguard, if he wants one, when he hits Manhattan, to keep his too-loving fans from tearing him to its-hitsy pieces. . . . Martha Ray enters the hospital for a gland operation in March, right after she closes at the Carnival.

SOPHIE TUCKER, who instigated the current ban on Celebrity Nights and waged a one-woman campaign against them, might begin to think she was a split personality. . . . She would look at page 158 of her autobiography in which she admits her first success as a night club star came at Risenwelter's when she introduced the custom of celebrity nights—which she called "Bohemian Nights."

MAMI BEACH, Feb. 4—In keeping with our Spartan mode of living, we were sitting down to an early breakfast about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the phone rang and a voice on the other end said:

"I expect you will be getting into Judge Leibowitz trouble. Do you want to retain a good criminal lawyer?"

"How criminal?" I asked.

"Well, sort of retired."

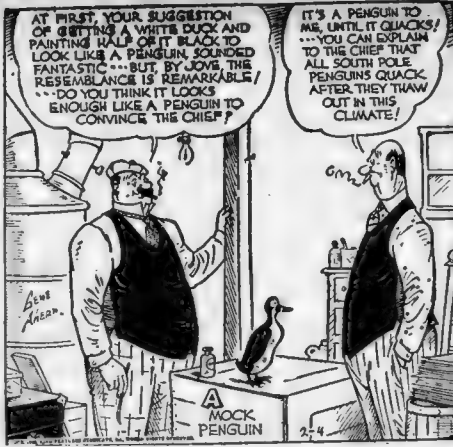

The caller materialized in the room a few minutes later and turned out to be Judge Samuel Leibowitz, the eminent Brooklyn jurist. I asked if he had any old writs of habeas corpus he could spare, and he said he was on vacation.

"I come here to avoid having to preside over the trial of Leo Durocher on charges of socking a Dodger fan," said Iltzner. "Durocher is a friend of mine and I was afraid I might have been prejudiced." (The civil suit was settled out of court.)

Judge Leibowitz, who once adjourned court because the Dodgers had clinched the pennant, said the baseball manager might have had provocation.

I asked the jurist how he was spending his time here, now that he cannot indulge in his favorite pastime of tossing malfeasors in the can.

"I am a bit bored," he replied, looking out the window and sneering at a couple of palms. "Know what I did in desperation the other day? I wandered into the local court-house and took a spectator's seat at a trial!"

Sophie's exact words: "I would look over the room and see who I recognized and introduce them to the crowd." She goes on to say that songs became successes over-night by being introduced there, and stars got their first breaks by being seen there. She avers that such notables as Joe E. Brown, Loretta McDermott and George Raft were started on the road to fame at her Sunday nights, which attracted so many important theatrical people. . . . Inconsistent, wot?

A BROADWAY PRESS agent dropped his life savings—$26,000—in a gin rummy game this week. The winner was a nitery owner. . . . Watch for a Page 1 game-throwing rumpus centered around another local school—similar to the Brooklyn College basketball scandal of last year. This time one player and the team's coach are involved. . . . The Federal Narcotics Squad, which has been increased to fight the spread of dope-ringing activities, is reported to have sent a secret report to J. Edgar Hoover urging that he close down one area entirely. . . . Sonja Henie is long-distancing a Swedish shipping magnate now in Washington. . . . Singer Patricia Bright viewed "To Have and Have Not" 100 times to perfect her Bacall routine for "When You and I Were Young, Bogie," with which she plays the St. Regis customers.

TOPS IN TOWN: Sid Caesar's scene-stealing in "Tars and Spars." He's a funnyman. . . . The steaks and chops at Chandler's. . . . Johnny Desmond's recording of "Don't You Remember Me?" . . . Lorraine Rognan at the Latin Quarter. . . . Thelma Carpenter's Majestic disc of "Hurry Home." . . . The song "You Haven't Changed at All" from the Lerner-Loewe "Day Before Spring" score.

from the jury. The Supreme Court upheld him.

The case went into a series of new trials. Four of the boys were acquitted after the Bates girl confessed the charges were fabricated. Four others were sentenced on a reduced charge and a fifth for simple assault. All nine are now free.

WHEN HE QUIT criminal law for the bench, Mr. Liebowitz held America's all-time record for clearing clients accused of murder. He knows every trick of the trade—as lawyers in his court now find to their sorrow.

"I sometimes wish I was back at it," he said. "It was exciting. I liked being that jerk up North, Liebowitz!"

THE LITTLE WOMAN was looking through one of the Miami papers when she suddenly exclaimed:

"You must have been in worse shape last night than I thought. Look at this!"

I looked—and went goggle-eyed, too, because this was the heading:

"Pay Less Than Living Cost, Dixon Says:

"X Thomas mon city shrill cly, Ann Southern's Birthday Doll."

It turned out to have nothing to do with me, however. It was a piece by Kenneth L. Dixon, the heading of which had been slightly pied.

AFTER MR. TRUMAN'S speech urging voters to write their Congressmen demanding action on labor legislation, Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan was deluged with mail. He undertook, however, to answer all of it.

He signed letters until his arm was cramped, working nights at home. Now he is fit to be tied because he has received upwards of 1000 replies to this effect: "I have just received your form letter—signed by somebody else."

George Hollar Boston After Dark

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: Admitting that the statement is neither seasonable nor timely, we submit today for your encouragement only that Spring is just 45 days away. Meantime, br-r-r.

SUMNER HERSEY, the press agent, suggests by telegram that we note the 5th anniversary of USO today by extending thanks, on behalf of the public and the veterans to the following colleagues in journalism who helped greatly in making the show-giving part of the USO hospital program so great a success: Marjorie Adams, Peggy Doyle, Helen Eager, Eliot Norton and Mel Musco. . . . A postscript, which occurs to us is for a bow also in the direction of Mrs. Betty Kern, who is a very close in-law to the newspaper business, for the inspiring and tireless energetic work she contributed as the motivating force of every single professional show which left Boston each Sunday noon for Fort Devens, Camp Edwards or Myles Standish, or for the Cushing General or Chelsea Naval Hospitals, or to the quarter dock or "back bay" of allied ships—was to entertain ill or wounded men in uniform. . . . So, thanks, Marjorie, Peggy, Helen, Eliot and Melvin and Betty. . . . We know at Mr. Hershey's suggestion—that we are putting in type what thousands of our boys have had in their hearts.

CHARLIE KOERNER'S death in Cedar of Lebanon's Hospital, Los Angeles, shocked his Boston friends. . . . From a Boston executive position with RKO, Koerner went to New York in charge of all RKO theaters, and thence to Hollywood as the top man in the RKO Radio Pictures, Inc. setup. . . . At 49, he was one of the five most important men in the production end of the motion picture industry.

VITAL AND VIBRANT with health, Charlie was one of those envied persons who seemed never to endure a day's illness. . . . We were talking about him with Mike Todd last week in New York, and told Mike that we had heard that Charlie's illness was more serious than it was thought to be at first. . . . Mike had been with him a week or so before, and he couldn't imagine that the RKO producer could be seriously ill.

STORIES are still coming in about persons who missed that tragic flight from New York two weeks ago in which 17 persons died. . . . The closest call reported to date was the near miss of Leo Wasserman, brother of Harry Wasserman, the M. and P. theaters district manager from Roxbury. . . . Leo Wasserman had taken his seat in the plane when he recalled an important business matter that he had forgotten to handle in New York. . . . So he got up hurriedly, left the plane and took a later flight. . . . Not one passenger, nor crew member escaped death on the fatal flight.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Ann Dennis, the singer from "Polonaise" begins an engagement at Casa Manana tonight, doubling from the show at the nearby Opera House. . . . Reading behind the lines of the Cort Theater's advertisements of "Antigone and the Tyrant," one detects a nice dilemma on billing which has been solved, apparently, to the satisfaction of all. . . . If you read the advertisement you will learn that Katharine Cornell (in large type) is the producer (in association with Gilbert Miller). . . . You will learn also that (in type about one-fifth the size) the same Katharine Cornell is acting in the play. That "Ad" undoubtedly sets two precedents in theatrical billing. . . . No producer (unless, like Ziegfeld, his name was part of his show's title) ever used starting-type to advertise the presentation of a show. . . . And no star, or co-star, ever accepted such small

In Massachusetts Blue Cross now protects 1 out of 3 against costly hospital bills Are you a member?

IN Massachusetts alone, 50,000 are joining Blue Cross every month. Already one out of every three persons in the Commonwealth—1,400,000—are members.

Blue Cross is a low-cost, non-profit plan for protecting against hospital bills. For a few cents a day . . . it pays the hospital for services to the entire family.

Endorsed by Hospitals

Blue Cross is the only plan endorsed by America's hospitals. It is made possible by the co-operation of hospitals, employers and the leaders of your community.

Nine out of ten people have trouble paying their hospital bills. If you join Blue Cross, you need not worry about the bill. Simply show your card at the hospital.

JOIN BLUE SHIELD, TOO

The Blue Shield pays physicians' bills for surgery and maternity care in hospitals in the same manner Blue Cross pays hospital bills. You can get this added protection for your entire family by joining a group at your place of employment. Write Blue Shield for details. Same address as Blue Cross.

The chances are 1 to 10 that you will go to the hospital within a year!

BLUE CROSS
is sweeping the nation!

1,400,000 members in Massachusetts alone . . .
20,000,000 members coast to coast
12,000 in the nation are joining every day
2,500 member hospitals in the United States

Smooth Limbs Enhance Nylon Glory

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

THERE may or may not be nylons, nylons everywhere . . . but at least they're coming . . . slowly but surely. Some people tell us nylons will be plentiful by the end of this month . . . others say definitely not. Anyway, a New York store disposed of 30,000 pairs of nylons in one day last week.

If we're not certain when we'll encase our limbs in nylons . . . we CAN be certain that the legs must be conditioned to accept their sheer delight and fantasy when they do arrive . . . which can't be too soon for most of us.

Those of us who had a preview of nylon gifts at Christmas . . . aren't we the lucky gals . . . know with what envy our pedal extremities were glummed as we went about. If you have them now . . . or are anxiously awaiting their presence . . . be sure your legs are in a mood to receive the peacetime goodies with loving care.

MUST BE SMOOTH

Which means legs must be smooth and sleek . . . completely devoid of fuzz . . . without the slightest eruption . . . not only because they may ruin the gossamers while we're slipping them on . . . but to protect the looks of the lovelies after they are on.

Because they are so sheer . . . nylons magnify fuzz and distracting beauty marks on the legs. Have you nicked yourself lately? That's why a leg wax treatment featured at a local salon is both timely and beneficial. And anyway . . . nylons or not . . . legs should be hair-free at all times if we care about our appearance. It is a year-round good grooming deed.

This leg wax treatment tweezes en masse every visible hair on your legs and discourages the quick growth you sometimes get from a razor-removal . . . if you're still old-fashioned enough to be pursuing this course. There is nothing in the world to remove hair permanently. But with this leg wax treatment . . . the new growth . . . retarded in its rebirth by this treatment . . . is soft and downy and not hard and bristly . . . and is easier to take care of.

WATCH SNAGGING

Like chapped hands . . . fuzzy legs are not pretty nor feminine. Watch out for those rough hands when you're slipping on the nylons. By the same token . . . after your legs have been rendered skin-smooth and clean . . . you don't have to worry about rough leg skin catching a snag in your hose prizes. This treatment assures beautiful nylon-ed legs.

For the name of the salon featuring this leg wax treatment, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

IT MAY take us a little while to get used to the uneven hemline . . . but it is a smart and accepted trend for spring. Here it is reflected with full evening chic for a short dinner dress . . . created by Jo Copeland for Pattullo Modes in black taffeta with a diagonal hip-to-thigh ruffle . . . and cut with a charmingly simple low round neck and ciao sleeves. It is an interesting silhouette . . . particularly good for the girl with attractive, slim ankles . . . R. M.

Sleeve Styles

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE classic reefer coat is listed for an important place as a Spring style, but it is a reefer with new sleeves which make a big difference. Deep armhole, cuffed sleeves set into this coat make it into a fresh and attractive fashion, as you can see by consulting our sketch. The reefer also gets balloon sleeves from some of our best designers, and then again it gets sleeves with a loose monk's cut to them.

The model shown is made of navy blue wool and fastens on eight buttons set double-breasted fashion. Buttons attach the cuffs on the sleeves. Bands set over the shoulders merge into the front seams in points to make a soft and decorative shoulder line.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

TRYING TO IMPRESS? Don't tell a visitor that you declined an invitation because of his call, or chatter about your varied social activities, etc. Talking about your popularity shows that you lack social poise.

Patience Needed

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

About a month and a half ago I met a very nice fellow in the place where I work. He asked to bring me home and I accepted. Afterward, he kept taking me out, and after a while I fell in love with him.

Now he tells me he cares for me very much, but yet doesn't feel that he loves me. Everything he does, he lets me know. Is it at all possible that he may love me and yet isn't sure?

I have many friends, and now one wants me to go back to him. I would try to if I didn't feel so in love with this other man. But I don't know where I stand with him. M. S. S.

Yes, of course, it is possible that your young man may love you and not yet be entirely aware of it. That is not at all an uncommon thing to have happen between a man and a girl. Sometimes, of course, it's the other way round.

The fact that your friend pays you so many thoughtful attentions certainly shows that you are in his mind pretty constantly. Why not just be patient for a while and let things ride as they are a little longer? Don't try to rush him into anything.

When Referring To Minister

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: When reference is made to a minister in the minutes of a meeting, which of the following is the proper way to record his name: "Rev. Doe," "Rev. Mr. Doe," "Rev. John Doe," "The Rev. Doe," "The Rev. Mr. Doe" or "The Rev. John Doe"? W. A.

The last form you mention is correct: "The Rev. John Doe." (1) It is not correct to address or refer to a minister by the title of Reverend plus only his name ("Rev. Doe" or "Rev. John Doe"). (2) In writing to a minister or referring to him, it is not correct to use "The Rev. Doe" without the first name. (3) And, most importantly, "The" should be used before "Rev." because "Reverend" is merely an adjective of courtesy, not a title. "The Rev. Mr. Doe" is proper when one does not know the minister's first name. "The Rev. Dr. Doe" is correct when he is a doctor of divinity.

Ice Cream Is Delicious When Served With Pie

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

PIE TOPPED WITH ICE CREAM is a year-round favorite American food no matter what locality. And no longer is pie a la mode confined to the two-crust variety.

Any pie, no matter what flavor, is delicious topped with nutritious ice cream—it is the perfect climax to any event.

Here is a pumpkin pie recipe baked in individual pies, or tarts, and topped with vanilla ice cream instead of whipped cream. The flavor combination is even better than with whipped cream if you can imagine such a thing. Try it and see.

PUMPKIN TARTS WITH ICE CREAM

(½ recipe for plain pastry)
1½ cups cooked, strained pumpkin

1½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup dark corn syrup
1 tsp. flour
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. ginger
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1½ cups milk
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup chopped nuts
1 qt. vanilla ice cream

Roll out pastry to ¼-inch thickness. Cut into 4½-inch circles. Line individual pie pans with pastry, fluting edges and trimming to fit. Heat pumpkin in saucepan over medium heat for 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Combine sugar, flour, salt, spices and syrup. Stir into heated pumpkin; add milk and blend. Add beaten eggs and chopped nuts, beating until smooth. Pour into tart shells; bake in a hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 10 minutes, then reduce oven to 350 deg. F. for about 20 to 25 minutes, or until a clean knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Top with ice cream and serve. Makes 6 individual tarts.

Until now there has been nothing better than cherry pie a la mode. But—now we have a new version of cherry tarts which includes plenty of ice cream on top. We reverse the order and put the cherries on top—and is it good! Pastry shells may be prepared in advance and the cherry sauce should be made ahead of time so that it has time to cool.

ICE CREAM CHERRY TARTS

6 individual pastry shells
1 qt. vanilla ice cream
1 pint fresh or frozen cherries or
2 cups canned sweet red cherries

Fill individual pastry shells generously with vanilla ice cream. Top with red cherries and cherry sauce. Makes 6 servings.

CHERRY SAUCE

1 cup cherry juice (sweetened juice from fresh, frozen, or canned sweet red cherries)
¼ cup sugar
1½ tsp. cornstarch
1 tsp. lemon juice

Blend sugar, cornstarch and lemon juice. Add to cherry juice and cook, stirring until slightly thickened. Cool and serve over the ice cream. If canned cherries are used, add more sugar to suit taste.

Here's another sparkling new pie recipe that should be in your file. It's a color-flavor team that will make a perfect dessert any day.

ICE CREAM PIE

1 9-inch baked pie shell
1 qt. vanilla ice cream
1 jar whole cranberry sauce

Fill the baked pie shell with vanilla ice cream. Top immediately with a heavy coating of whole cranberry sauce. Cut into pieces and serve immediately with or without whipped cream.

Another quick and easy way to make ice cream pie is using graham crackers for the crust.

Smart Set

By BETTY ALDEN

BETTY TYSON, Boston debutante, will have the grandest memory book of any of this winter's deb's. A close friend of Mary Margaret Truman, the President's daughter, Betty is invited to many White House festivities and is also frequently entertained in Washington by her aunt, Mrs. George Mesta, charming and popular leader in Capital society.

Betty is one of the most traveled of this year's deb's, being a regular commuter between Boston, New York and Washington. She is studying at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and makes numerous week-end trips to the Hub for coming-out parties of her sister deb's.

At Capitol Fetes

She is the daughter of Mr. and George S. Tyson of Boston and Newport who presented her at a glamorous ball in Newport last summer.

Her next trip to Washington will be for the pleasant house dance Mrs. Mesta is giving Friday evening, Feb. 15, in honor of Mary Margaret Truman.

There will be 19 candles on the cake at the Charlotte Cushman Club birthday party tomorrow from 4 to 6 at 86 Beacon st. Members of the cast of practically every show in town will be on hand to have a piece of cake and meet in person the many prominent socialites interested in the work of the club.

Over 20,000 actresses have enjoyed the hospitality of the Charlotte Cushman Club which provides homelike quarters for actresses on tour. Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French, the club's charming president, will welcome guests at the birthday party and pourers will be Mrs. Leslie A. Claff, Mrs. Julius Wentzel and Mrs. Wendell Grey.

Mr. John Thomas Sheehan of Portsmouth, N. H., announces the marriage of his daughter Eleanor Lucy to Robert Whiting Harrington, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Harrington of West Newton. Rev. Ernest Kuebler performed the ceremony Jan. 31st at the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, and a reception for the immediate families was held at the Copley Plaza.

The couple will be at home in Durham, N. H., where the bride is a member of the faculty at the University of New Hampshire. A former lieutenant in the Army, Mr. Harrington is a graduate of Bowdoin, received his M. A. from the University of New Hampshire and is writing his thesis for a Ph.D. from Cornell. He recently returned from three years Army duty in India.

COLONIAL—"HE WHO GETS SLAPPED." The Theatre Guild revival of the symmetrical play by Leonid Andreyev, will be the fifth attraction in the Guild-Theatre Society subscription series. Headline cast of 40 are John Abbott, Stella Adler, Beatrix Pearson, John Wengraf and Reinhold Schunzel, staged by Tyrone Guthrie.

OPERA HOUSE—"ROSE MARIE," the joint work of Rudolf Friml, composer, and Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2d. Librettists, will be presented here for one week. The score includes the enchanting "Indian Love Call" and "Rose Marie, I Love You." As you may remember, it is the romantic story of the love of a former Canadian Northwest Mounted for a dainty French-Canadian girl.

February 14
COLEY—"LITTLE BROWN JUG," a psychological drama by Marie Baum, with Percy Kilbride, Katherine Alexander, Arthur Margeson and Marjorie Lord. Gerald Ravory directing the Courtyard Bar production.

February 18
OPERA HOUSE—"THE MERRY WIDOW," Franz Lehár's melodious operetta, will be presented here for a week by the Mercury Theatre. The company will be the same one which will appear in "Rose Marie" the previous week.

Pierre De Noeder, who directed the initial Chicago production, will produce. WILSON—"I LIKE IT HERE," William Cahn's production of the A. B. Sturges comedy with Oscar Karlsen, Bart Lytall, Beverly Bayne, Donald Koss, John, Bill Terry, Mardi Bryant, Harold Gray and John Effra. Charles E. Freeman directing. Ends by Ralph Allwain.

Lights! Camera! Action! I, Ort, the producer is back in the midst of things! This week I'm concentratin' on the entertainment in my Grille an' El Tropic Room.

Not that I ain't been before, but I'm bustin' out wid bigger an' better shows from now on. Wat's more, I'm fussier than ever about what I display on my stages. I've always insisted that my acts be acceptable as family entertainment an'—they is! My top stars this week is Billy Nightingale an' Evelyn wuz wid me a few seasons ago. They jest got back to town after a trans-continental tour wid some of the nation's greatest bands. They jest parted company wid Lionel Hampton an' that's good enough fer me! They's more good entertainment in my Grille this week than there is crumpets at a tea party! I figger to stay around an' do nuthin' but laff myself sick the first two days! These two people is wonderful—superb—scintillatin' in fact, they're exotic. That's how good they are! I'm out on a limb, swingin' in the breeze like a oriole. I always thought orioles wuz Baltimore ball players. Live an' learn, I say! Incidentally, I'm runnin' shows 3 times nightly an' the dance bands is jumpin' from openin' to closin'. VFW State Commander Tells Of War II Vets' Benefits

By AUSTIN LAKE

NOT SINCE MAX SCHIELING biffed the daylight out of Joe Louis has this corner been smothered under such a mass of mail. This has to do with the recent pros and cons published by this pillar airing the wishes of the War II veterans on why they DO or DO NOT want to join War I vet organizations.

So now James A. Riley, commander of the Massachusetts VFWs, takes typewriter in hand and explains why his soldier-fraternity is the War II vets' friend, to wit and viz: "Sir—The VFW faced the 'inevitable' about which you wrote on July 28, years ago, as is attested by the 900,000 overseas War II men who have already joined our ranks. The VFW issued the general command 'take over' to the younger veterans soon after War II began and have proved their sincerity by forming 100s, yes 1000s of new posts throughout the nation—just for THEM.

"Let our record stand for itself. The VFW was first to propose legislation to make ALL benefits of War I available to the men of the last conflict—initiated within a few weeks after Pearl Harbor. It led the fight to correct chaotic conditions in the under-manned Veterans' Administration in Boston.

"WHEN SERVICE-CONNECTED disabled veterans were refused domiciliary care at the West Roxbury Vets' hospital, a committee of the VFW called on Gen. Frank Hines, then administrator in Washington and got action. As a result the Boston Veterans' Bureau was immediately centralized at 17 Court st.

"The VFW introduced into Congress H. R. 127, proposing a bonus for ALL War II veterans, based on length and time in service. . . a proposal which would provide compensation at $3 daily for service within the U. S. A. and $4 for each day overseas, with maximums of $3500 and $4500 respectively. In addition each veteran wounded in action would receive $300. So it is plain that the VFW has espoused the cause of War II youth VIGOROUSLY.

"Hiding complaints registered by the VFW over delays in processing veterans' claims, the Vet-Ad has now built its Washington staff to over 10,000. Regional offices have also given authority to put employees on a 'shift basis' to speed up the service.

"The VFW sponsors another proposal—to remedy any injustices to War II veterans who came under enemy control, to enable them to receive back compensations and pensions. There is a clause in the Public Law which the VFW seeks to amend, one that prevents such veterans, many of whom were imprisoned in enemy camps, to receive more than $1000 in back benefits.

"Nor has the VFW stuck to its prewar official personnel. Of the five trained service officers now at 17 Court st., four are disabled, decorated War II men. Latest of the many War II Posts to be established, was that only last Thursday in memory of Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., Naval hero, killed in action, his younger brother, John F. Kennedy, was chosen to lead the unit, composed exclusively of War II vets like Torby Masdonald, Eddie McLaughlin and scores of others.

"Look at the George Dilboy Post in Somerville; Hyde Square Post, Jamaica Plain; St. Mark's Post, Dorchester; East Cambridge Post, Pepperell Post; Walpole, Wellesley, Oxford, Nahant, Mattapan, Meeting House Hill, Cherry Valley of Roxbury; John J. Flaherty Post, Roxbury; S-Sgt. Justin McCarthy Post, Newport, and others too numerous to mention, and you will find that all of them want — No, almost oblige, the younger veterans to 'take over'.

Aim Is 2,000,000-Strong!

"AT THE LAST DEPARTMENT ENCAMPMENT held at Gardner Auditorium last June—that was 1945—Maj. John J. Dugan, who spent three years in a Jap prison camp in the Philip-

Smythe With Leafs for Garden Go; Broda Back

By BILL GRIMES

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—Managing director of the Toronto Maple Leafs, Conn Smythe, back in hockey action after a vacation in Boca Raton, Fla., will be at the Boston Garden Wednesday night when the Leafs tangle with the league-leading Bruins. Smythe will be accompanied by Turk Broda, Toronto goalie, who has been in the Army since the fall of 1943 but who expects to be back in the strings within two weeks.

Smythe, still limping as the result of a serious wound he received while overseas with the Canadian army, was admittedly disappointed in the showing of the Leafs as they battled the Rangers to a 6-6 deadlock.

Yet, he was confident that his team, with Broda preparing for a comeback and some contemplated changes in the lineup, would make the playoffs. The Leafs are now in fifth place.

The visit to Boston Garden will be Smythe's first since 1941.

Broda has had two workouts with the Leafs since his return to

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Jack Church, Bruins' defenseman, was released from Bethesda Hospital today after X-rays failed to disclose serious injury from a spill in the Bruins-Blackhawks game here last night. Five stitches were taken in Church's head after he banged on the ice when he collided with George Gee of the Hawks.

this country two weeks ago after two years overseas. While in England, the Leafs' goalie played 30 games. He appears to be 20 pounds lighter than when he left the Leafs for the service.

Even though they split their week-end games the Bruins are sitting pretty. They lost, 3-1, to the Blackhawks in Chicago last night after beating the Maple Leafs, 5-3, the previous night.

Bruins still maintain the pace with a one-point edge over the ever dangerous Hawks. The Ross-men have two home games over the next six days. The Hawks are hitting the road, with games in Montreal and Chicago. Meanwhile the Bruins will be entertaining the Leafs Wednesday and Canadiens next Sunday.

After a scoreless first period last night the Blackhawks scored twice in the second while the league-leading Bruins were tallying once, and clinched the victory with a third goal in the final period, after six minutes and 52 seconds of play.

The game was one of offense and the way, with both clubs virtually tossing defense aside.

Boston had one bad break when defenseman Jack Church suffered a head injury when the back of his head struck the ice after a collision with Chicago's George Gee in the first period. He was removed to a hospital where X-rays were to be taken to determine the extent of his injuries.

The Ranger-Maple Leafs game in New York last night developed into a free scoring affair. The score was 6-6 at the conclusion with a packed house being treated to all phases of hockey, including good and bad.

Detroit, after losing four straight games, snapped out of it last night by pinning the Canadiens 2-0 before over 13,000 fans. Our old friend, Paul Bibeault, had a rare night in the nets for the Frenchmen, despite the defeat. Paul had 29 saves against 28 for Harry Lumley of Detroit. It was Lumley's second shutout of the season.

Ryder Misses Millrose First Time in 35 Years

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Shades of Freddie Burns, Dave Caldwell, Tom Halpin, Oscar Hedlund, Jack Driscoll, Gil Dodds & Co.! Jack Ryder missed his first Millrose meet in 35 years, due to lack of talent, and won't enter a relay in the BAA games come Saturday night at the Garden.

"Gil Walker and Tom Carney will run in the dash," said the BC and BAA maestro today, "but I haven't men enough to make up a respectable relay. Herschel Sternlieb was drafted and Carl Parsons has an injured ankle. They were the backbone of the team."

Time was, and not long back, when Ryder would enter a freshman mile relay, a varsity mile relay, a varsity two-mile relay and two BAA relays in both KC and BAA meets. Today BAA stands alone on the Boston indoor calendar.

"Millrose invited me," Ryder added, "but I couldn't accept because I didn't have a team."

That from the coach whose pupils provided the Millrose meet with thrill after thrill during a 35-year period!

Thus there will be no HC-BC relay which furnished one of the meet's highlights for years. And no BAA entry in the Hunter Mile. But wait!

"My Frank Cassidy might fit in there," said Tufts' Coach Dinger Dussault. "No, I wasn't at Millrose either. First time in 15 years. But I see where Mac Mitchell did only 4:19 in defeating Hansenne, and I'm sure Cassidy could push them to a faster mark."

"He's a kid, a freshman, but has lots of ability. He already has broken the Tufts cage mark for the mile, and if he doesn't get stage-struck he might give them something to think about."

Mac Mitchell ran his third quarter in 1:08:2. That accounts for the slow time. Remember how Joie Ray used to bang it out on the third quarter? If Cassidy runs, he'll make them step faster than that."

Well, isn't he going to run? "That depends on the time between races," said Dussault. "He's going to run the two-mile relay with Porter, Dickson and Johnson. If there's an hour between the Hunter mile and the two-mile relay he'll run; otherwise not."

Mark down New York U. for the mile and two-mile relay titles in the ICA-A meet. Any quartet that does 3:26.4 and 8:04 at this stage the season will be flying in March.

Victor Flores Meets Biesca

Victor Flores, Mexican featherweight champion, and Pedro Biesca of New York, will clash in the 10-round main event on the Sharkey A. A. boxing show at the Arena tomorrow night.

Dave Andrews of Lowell, who will appear in a main event role very soon, will clash with Pat Doyle of Fall River in the eight-round semi-final.

Three pairs of sixes open the show. Charles Kelley of Detroit, meets Joe Carney of New York. The others pair Al Tommis, Dorchester with Tommy Doyle, Fall River, and Ronald Gomes, Fall River, with Buddy Brown of Boston.

St. John's Courtmen Set for Flight Here

St. John's University basketball team will fly from New York for its garden meeting with Boston College on Thursday.

The flight will mark the first time that a college basketball team uses air transportation in New England.

St. John's will appear on the same card with alparaiso University which will meet Holy Cross.

"I have only been in America four weeks," he stated, "and after seeing the way the American boys ski, I did not think I could win this race—but I am very happy that I did."

Seventeen ski clubs had representatives in the Gibson trophy race, with the Franconia Club sending over no less than seven aspirants, including Pauline Hannah, Rachel Moulton, Wyma Keene, Johnny Chapman, Berttram Herbert, Roger Peabody and Sel Hannah. . . . Lowell Thomas, Jr., raced for the Dartmouth Outing Club, but his father, another ski enthusiast, was unable to be present to root for him.

Lefty Gomez On Writers' Card

Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, as able wit as he was a pitcher, will decorate the head table at the Official Baseball Writers' dinner tomorrow night at the Statler. That was the word received today by Chairman Joe Cashman who said the place was a positive sell-out.

Gomez is a sparkling addition to a comic-minded crew which includes Al Schacht, Umpire Red Jones, Ray Bolger, Tom Meany & Co. Happy Chandler also will attend, in company with George M. Stettin, former American Association chief who now is Detroit farm house, and Billy Southworth, who will outline the 1946 bases campaign. All players on hand will be Tommy Holmes and Dave Ferriss. They'll receive trophies for their work during 1945.

Dris Cuppers Weigh Axis Nations' Bids

MILBOURNE, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Australian council of lawn and tennis associations, host in the coming Davis Cup final, will ask that representatives of the challenged countries meet in London between June 14 and July 31 to decide eligibility problems. It was reported today. It is believed the question of entries from Japan, Germany and Italy will be discussed.

EASY FOR OLYMPICS

College Hoop Teams Eye Big Tournaments

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—With only two teams—Navy (7-0) from among the major quintets and Otterbein (9-0) among the smaller schols—left in the unbeaten ranks, interest in college basketball began to shift today to the annual postseason tourneys.

Notre Dame and West Virginia bore under consideration for bids to the NCAA and national invitation tournaments at Madison Square Garden, had their perfect records spoiled Saturday night. The Irish lost to Northwestern, 56 to 55, at Chicago, while the Mountaineers were edged by Temple, 48 to 42, at Philadelphia. Both had won 13 straight. Navy kept its slate clean by whipping Columbia, 62-41.

Unofficially these are the teams under consideration in the various N.C.A.A. districts (season record in figures):

District One — Rhode Island State 12-1, Yale 12-1, Holy Cross

O'Rourke Shines As Team Loses

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 4 (AP)—A pass interception by Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch good for 45 yards and a subsequent field goal kicked at a bad angle from the 2-yard stripe by Lou Zontini gave the Service All-Stars a 17-14 triumph over the Los Angeles Bulldogs here yesterday.

Behind 14-0 at the half, the All-Stars staged a thrilling finish. With about one minute and 30 seconds of playing time remaining, and the All-Stars behind 14-7, Charlie O'Rourke faded back from the Bulldog 29 to toss a perfect pass caught by end Chuck Mehele on the 11, who scored unopposed. Hirsch held, and Zontini kicked the conversion that tied the score at 14-14.

Bride Ship Ends Terror Voyage

Prepare to Land—Belongings are quickly packed by English brides (front to rear) Mrs. Joseph Edelstein, en route to Somerville; Mrs. Ogla Ebling, Batavia, N. Y., and Mrs. Phillipa Daiglo, en route to Newport, Vt., aboard the GI bride-carrying Argentina.

Playtime

English war brides play with their babies in the nursery aboard the SS Argentina as the liner approached New York. Scores of anxious husbands were waiting to greet their wives and babies when the ship docked today.
